EIGHTH FATAL—This ruined car carried prominent Biloxi business man Emory Sadler to his death Sunday in a one-car smashup on Kiln Road. The vehicle skidded off the road into a water-filled ditch and the 59-year-old victim was dead by the time Sheriff Sylvan J. Laddner and Deputy Gerald Favre arrived.

Mrs. Lanita Jackson, 42, his wife, fractured ribs and hips, reported in good condition. Mrs. May Bright, 63, Atlanta, Ga., bruises and fractures, condition listed as fairly good.

Tartavouille and Mrs. Wedemeyer were charged with reckless driving and he was fined $5 in Mayor's Court after the head-on collision at 1 p.m. Sunday on Dunbar Avenue.

To Write Smith Sheriff Protests Highway Condition

John Smith, State Highway Commissioner, came in for criticism at Monday's meeting of Hancock County Board of Supervisors, after Sheriff Sylvan J. Laddner Jr. asked for repairs to the old highway between the truck weighing station and Highway 43.

Laddner, who traveled the road Saturday night on an emergency call, declared the road highly dangerous and in need of immediate repair or blockading.

"I think we should write to John Smith," District 5 Supervisor R. G. Hubbard said. "One day it is his (the state's) road and the next day it is the county's. Let him decide once and for all if maintenance of the road is his responsibility."

Although content of the letter was not determined, the other supervisors agreed that it should be written.

J. T. McCaleb Is Elected By Knights

J. T. McCaleb Sr. was elected grand knight of the Pere Le Duc Council No. 1522, Knights of Columbus, at its meeting Monday night. Installation of the new officers will take place July 6 with Edward Murtagh, newly appointed district deputy, conducting the ceremony.

McCaleb, a knight since 1917, has been grand knight of the Biloxi Council, 4th district deputy for two years and has served his own council for several terms as advocate. He is presently a fourth degree member of the order.

Elected deputy grand knight was Leroy Luke, member since 1955 and a third degree man. Albert Grass was named chancellor; Irvin Bontemps, a past grand knight, recorder; C. J. Piazza, reelected treasurer; Charles Kidd, Jr., warden; Morreale, fourth term as inside guard; Gerard Freeman, outside guard; Wallace J. Bontemps, financial secretary, a post he has held for 20 years; and Lucas Pucheu, the retiring grand knight trustee.

Another road controversy erupted when Burton D. Johnson, former sheriff and present candidate for the Best 5 Supervisory seat, appeared and questioned board attorney Sam L. Favre Jr. about purchases of equipment and materials for the seawall.

Favre explained they were for repair and upkeep of the seawall and its approaches, in accordance with state statute which provides that a percentage of all vehicle gasoline tax funds collected in coastal counties may revert to the counties for upkeep of the seawalls, adjoining and approaching roads.

When Johnson persisted, Favre asked the board to hear his question. He repeated the question and Supervisor Hubbard answered, in substance, as Favre had.

"If the seawall goes, we will replace it, not fill someone's front yard as you all did," Hubbard added, charging that county seawall funds had been used during Johnson's term of office as sheriff to fill a rained out front yard of former District 5 Supervisor Ed Orto.

Johnson said he knew nothing of that incident and Hubbard suggested that he was not well informed.

The complaint then charged that the seawall fund equipment was used for repairs "all over the county."

"That is right," Favre said, "according to the law, all approaches to the seawall can be repaired with seawall funds." (Cont. on Page 8)

$198,500 in Insurance Voted on New Schools

Insurance on new buildings totaling $198,500 was authorized by the County School Board Monday. Of that sum, $188,500 is for the new North Central High School and $10,000 for a recently completed addition to the Logtown School.

On the motion of Alton Keller with Lugs Necaise seconding, it was voted to split the new policies on a 7-3 basis with the larger sum going to the Merchants Insurance Agency and the smaller to Hancock Insurance.

That decision came after the board agreed to deal solely with those two firms for this insurance and Superintendent E. E. Breland read the report of the State Rating Bureau after inspection of North Central. Endeavoring to speed action, Mrs. C. C. McDonald Sr., board chairman, first proposed consideration of a 6-4 split and later came up with the 7-3 formula which Keller put in motion form.

The perennial headache of rural school buses raised itself again with the board finally voting

Railroad Ave. Name Change Is Proposed

Railroad Avenue in Waveland will be renamed Central Avenue unless Town Council changes its mind after a public hearing scheduled for 8 p.m., July 7. Council voted to hold a public hearing before making the change in name on the advice of attorney Dan M. Russell Jr.

After approving the performance bond of Ben Bourgeois, Mayor Garfield Laddner administered the oath of office as special officer to Bourgeois, who was appointed May 12 to the post for four months commencing June 1.

Following heated discussion council authorized Laddner in his capacity of manager of the gas and water works to pay up to $1.25 per hour for laborers employed by the gas and water works. This does not apply to laborers for the town of Waveland.

Alderman Albert Grass had first moved to increase to $1.25 the pay of Wallace Bourgeois and Wilburn Favre, regular employees of the gas and water system. On the grounds he might have to pay extra help the same and because of the additional expense involved, Laddner advised against the motion.

Alderman Dominic Sonier offered a substitute motion, seconded by Alderman William Ruhr, to in general terms give Laddner the authority to raise the two employees pay. This motion carried without opposition.

Earlier Secretary C. O. Dufour had pointed out that the cushion fund in the gas and water system, set up under a bond indenture, did not contain the amount it theoretically should. The gas and water system pays $400 a month into this fund, in addition to the amount paid into separate accounts for retirement of bonds and depreciation.

Laddner explained that in its early days of operation, with few customers, the system did not have the funds from which to pay the $400. In recent months the payment had been consistently made and the fund now contains over $7,000, he said, and the bond holders had long ago approved the non-payment into the cushion fund until the system had available funds.

It was noted that last year's transfer of two mills in the tax (Cont. on Page 12)

Dress Rehearsal Bodes Well for Theatre Play

An exceptionally fine dress rehearsal performance was given by local actors Tuesday night in the Little Theater production of Roomful of Roses.

The play, which opens tonight, is directed by Lewis, a footlight veteran making his debut in local theater work.

The two-act romantic drama, first presented at the House Theater, New York, in 1955, by Guthrie McClintic and Stanley Gilkey, may run at 8 p.m. today, Friday, Saturday and Sunday on the Boardman stage.

Beach Cleaning Plans Disclosed

Plans to clean the sand beach with county heavy equipment this week or next were announced when the Parks and Playground Commission met last night with Mrs. Theo Tudury, chairman, presiding. A sun shed also will be erected on the city pier, she said.

The commission is seeking applications from interested persons to serve as director for its summer youth program and to work with the newly formed softball league, it was disclosed. Those present were, Mrs. Ben Hille Sr., Ed Larroux and Warren Boshart.

Correction

The Echo was incorrect last week in stating that Welton J. Laddner, candidate for sheriff, ran third in the last primary for that post, and also that he was District 4 constable in 1941. E. P. Orto ran third and Laddner fourth in 1955, and Laddner was appointed constable in 1942.

Frivolous and Harassing

This editor is frequently sympathetic to the problems of public utilities, particularly those which must compete with publically subsidized utilities. This includes railroads and specifically the Louisville and Nashville railroad.

Sympathy for their economic problem does not include sympathy with harassment of the public, and such seems back of the L. and N.'s latest petition to the Interstate Commerce Commission. The ICC in May ruled that the L. and N. must continue trains 9 and 12, the commuter trains, between New Orleans and Pass Christian for another year, and suggested the possibility that "moderately increased" fares might enable the company to break even.

L. and N.'s response, less than a month later, was to ask for a full commission hearing on discontinuance, rate increases ranging from 40 per cent to over 150 per cent and permission to put fare changes into effect on 10 rather than 30 day notice.

A request to discontinue the commuter trains after the one year specified in the commission's ruling was to be expected, as was a request for "moderate" increases in fares. A proposed increase in fares of 150 per cent can only be frivolous or indicate very poor railway management for some years past, while harassment of the public is the only obvious basis for the request for waiver of the usual 30-day waiting period on fare changes, since it gives the public less time in which to protest a proposed change.

Unless there are unexpected economic changes or changes in the public's travel modes, the Echo believes the L. and N. will be given permission to drop trains 9 and 12 within a few years, perhaps next year, but tactics such as the present ones are poor for public relations, may cause more vigorous opposition by the public to any change and are poor business at best.

Four Dollars Buys a Lot

For each dollar of expense, the Girl Scouts do a remarkable job in helping the young girls of Hancock County—less than four dollars a year for each girl. They can only do this because of the unselfishness of their leaders.

These leaders give what many find it hardest to give—time and affection. Nevertheless, as in true of all organizations, some financial support is needed.

Two weeks ago a Bay resident, Mrs. James Ansley, was elected president of the Live Oak Scout Council. At present the Girl Scouts are trying to raise their meager goal. Pride in having the council president in their community will, we hope, cause Bay residents to be especially generous this year.

Four dollars could hardly be better spent.

Letters To the Editor

Editor, Sea Coast Echo:

Growing up is a very hard thing to do. Always has been, and always will be. Sometimes, reading reports about youngsters in deep trouble, we've thought the process must be getting harder than ever.

Surely the pressures are greater, the pace faster, but have basic values really changed so much since we graduated from the bubble-gum set? We think, most adults and at least 90 per cent of our youngsters still care about old fashioned virtues like honesty, fairness and self-reliance.

Certainly all children have a great need of leadership. Parents work with their children to give them this leadership. Girl Scouting is designed to help parents in their work, to help more and more of our girls into happy, healthy, responsible women and wives we'd like to see them become.

County Agent Notes

MANAGE SUMMER PASTURE

Got a lot of weeds in your pasture? If you have, you're losing a lot of grass. Weeds are deep-rooted. They can get moisture and grow when grass can't.

When these weeds get tall they shade out a lot of grass. Cows won't eat weeds which also gives them an advantage over grass. But you can get rid of these weeds.

Spraying with amine 2,4-D will get rid of most of them. If your pastures are close to cotton fields, you may not want to spray because of the danger to the cotton.

If this is the case, clipping your pastures is the answer. Be sure not to clip too closely because a summer drought may come along and stop short grass from growing.

Overgrazing ranks right along with weeds as top enemies of good summer pastures. Prevent overgrazing.

Here's how: Divide that pasture. Make at least two, and if possible, as many as four different pastures for summer grazing. Then you can graze one area a week; move on to another. The first pasture should have plenty of new growth on it by the time you complete your week's grazing on the fourth area.

You dairymen know you're going to need some Sudan and millet for temporary summer grazing. Try grazing these just a few hours a day, then taking the cattle off. This will prevent the cattle from destroying more grazing than they eat. Beef cattle producers might

John Smith Plays Politics with Our Pockets

The reduction of toll bridge rates for local users has a curious relation to election years—one that strikes us as more political than coincidental.

Last week southern district highway commissioner John Smith said tolls will be reduced to a nickel a crossing for local users after July 1.

They can get the reduced rate by purchasing 40-trip commuter books for $2. The 40-trip books have sold for $5 for the past four years.

The reduction comes one month before the August primary election in which Smith is seeking reelection to a fourth term on the highway commission.

We wonder if the reduction could in any way be related to the facts that:

- 1) Jackson County voters will total more than 13,000 this year;
- 2) A substantial portion of these voters use the bridge twice daily to reach places of employment in the Paspoint area, and

3) The reduction will amount to a right fair annual saving for all of them and they can be expected to remember it when they go to the polls Aug. 4.

Looks as if that adds up to a little more than coincidence, but before we decide let's go back four years.

That would put us back to 1955, another election year and Smith was a candidate for reelection.

Along comes July 1 and what happens?

The first commuter rate for local users was put into effect. It cut the 25-cent-a-crossing toll rate in half for local users through sale of 40-trip commuter books for $5.

The highway commission put that reduced rate into effect despite recommendations from the trustees, the Pascagoula-Moss-Point Bank, and the engineers, Hazlet and Erdal, that the old rate be continued unchanged.

Smith was reelected and carried Jackson County, although by close margin.

Under the old 25-cent-a-crossing rate, countians paid 30% of total annual bridge tolls, according to a revenue estimate prepared by a firm of New York experts retained by the highway commission.

This amounted to about $200,000 that countians paid each year on bonds sold to finance construction. The 1955 rate cut reduced this percentage and the one scheduled for July 1 will bring it down still more.

We in Jackson County are certainly happy to have some of the toll bridge burden shifted off our shoulders. Hundreds of workers can use the savings it will bring to supplement sometimes scanty household budgets.

But what brings resentment is the fact that these commuter rates could have been put into effect when the bridge went into operation if the trustee bank had so recommended and the highway commission agreed.

Reasons why will be dealt with in the next issue of the Chronicle, Pascagoula, Miss., CHRONICLE-STAR.

Fellow across the desk from us says that he sees no reason to build a back yard barbecue. His wife burns things perfectly on the kitchen stove.

The difference between constructive criticism and a snide remark depends on whether or not it's aimed at you.

FRED CURET ANNOUNCES FOR SHERIFF

FRED CURET, JR.

TO THE PEOPLE OF HANCOCK COUNTY:

Please accept this as my formal announcement as a candidate for the office of Sheriff and Tax Collector of Hancock County in the Democratic Primary to be held on the 4th day of August, 1959.

I was born and reared in Hancock County. I am 39 years old and the son of Mr. Fred Curet, Sr., and the late Mrs. Mozelle Williams Curet.

While acquiring my education, I attended the following schools: Kilm, St. Stanislaus and P. R. C.

In 1939 I enlisted and served almost 9 years in the U. S. Marine Corps; 3 years of this was spent in a prisoner of War Camp in Japan.

(1) After receiving an honorable discharge, I immediately began my training as a member of the Mississippi Highway Patrol. After completing my training I began active duty with the patrol and had the fortunate opportunity to serve a great deal of my time, on patrol duty, in Hancock and Harrison Counties. My record, while on duty as a patrolman, will reflect that I have consistently carried out the mandates of the law and at the same time had due regard and respect for the rights of my fellow man.

I have no attachments, either directly or indirectly, that would cause me to show favoritism to any particular person or group of persons.

If elected sheriff and tax collector, my office will be open, at all legal hours, and in tax-paying months my office will not be closed until all who are present shall have been served. At tag buying time I shall maintain automobile tag buying stations at various places in the County for the convenience of the citizen of this County.

If the good people of this County will honor me with the privilege of serving them, as their sheriff, I can assure each and every one, that you will not regret your vote, if you cast it for me.

Sincerely submitted,
Fred Curet Jr.

ONSTAGE—A mother and her second husband try to communicate with an insecure daughter, played by Diane Taylor, seated, in this weekend's Little Theater production of Roomful of Roses. Standing are Adele Husband, as Nancy Fallon, the loving mother, and Don Allen as Jay Fallon, her husband.

'Roomful' Opens Tonight

of an unhappy, unloved young girl who learns to accept the proffered love of a mother who left her bitter father years before for another man.

Diane Taylor, 13-year-old daughter of acting veterans Mr. and Mrs. Gary Taylor, turns in a splendid performance as the girl, Bridget MacGowan, whose visible transformation from a superficially indifferent to a warmly sensitive, lovely person is a highlight of the show.

Especially effective are the scenes between the girl and her mother, Nancy Fallon, played with usual skill by Mrs. Adele Husband, whose only regret in leaving an unloving husband was the loss of her daughter's custody.

Mrs. Husband was last seen as the female lead in Reclining Figure. Besides many other performances, she has directed local plays in collaboration with her husband, Dr. John Husband.

Another commendable showing was made by Don Allen, as Jay Fallon, the foreign correspondent who is Nancy's second husband, faced with the ticklish problem of bridging the obvious distaste of his wife's daughter, Allen, who lives in Pass Christian, and is employed here, is a welcome prospect for a theater often short on male leads.

Mrs. Evelyn Griffith, a bulwark of local theater activity, provides welcome comic relief as Grace Hewitt, a warm but nosy and bored neighbor. Mrs. Griffith directed the popular winter production of Reclining Figure and has been seen in several past productions.

Mrs. Hewitt's two delightfully normal adolescent youngsters, Jane and Dick, are played with aplomb by Anne Clark and Steve Wilson, respectively. Anne, as an overly precocious daughter, shows real ability as a comedienne. She starred in the New Orleans Jefferson Little Theater production of Junior Miss.

Steve is a picture of that not quite a man but definitely no longer a boy stage of every male's life. As the first love of the visiting daughter's life, he is delightful.

Charles Carter Jr., last seen as the male lead and co-director of Reclining Figure, puts in a short appearance at the end of the play as the cold, cynical father who sent his daughter to visit the mother while he secretly married again.

Mrs. Elizabeth Thomson, cast as Williams, the maid, appears for the first time although she is familiar locally as a talented singer who appeared in the last Christ Episcopal Day School minstrel show.

Aigrid Kuraitis was the talented designer of the fairly complicated set. A New Orleans commercial artist, his varied career includes scene designing with TV star Jack Webb while both were in the Army and a spell as sparring partner to boxer Joe Louis.

On the whole quite effective and enthusiastically received by the small dress rehearsal audience, the play came into its own in the second scene, of the first act when the actors relaxed after the opening jitters and plunged into an unusually enjoyable evening of amateur theater.

ANNOUNCES FOR STATE TAX COLLECTOR

Having several weeks ago officially qualified as a candidate for a full term as State Tax Collector, I now take this opportunity of stating to you the basis on which I rest my candidacy. As you know, it has been my privilege to hold this office for the remainder of the term of the late Mrs. Thomas L. Bailey.

It is, therefore, on the basis of the democratic tradition of our state in granting a full term to an official who has proved competent and faithful in a part of a term and on the basis further of my record in the time that I have served as State Tax Collector that I now solicit your support.

For the benefit of those who may not know me personally, let me say that I am a native of Grenada County, where I was born 36 years ago and where I have lived all of my life. I am a graduate of the University of Mississippi Law School, a veteran of overseas infantry service in World War II, and again served on active duty in the Korean War.

It was my privilege to serve as Legislative Assistant to Senator John Stennis for a period of one year. I was elected to the legislature three times from Grenada County, the last two times without opposition. I am married and the father of two small daughters. I am an elder in the Presbyterian Church of Grenada.

Feeling that I am qualified by training and experience, I submit to you that the record of my service as your State Tax Collector is one that merits your endorsement. The collections of that office have been increased by more than 40 per cent under my administration, and I have tried at all times to conduct the affairs of the office in a fair, impartial and honest manner.

It will be my purpose to conduct an active and aggressive campaign and I shall be interested in discussing my candidacy with as many of my fellow citizens as possible. Meanwhile, I assure you of my appreciation for your many courtesies to me in the past and for your support in the coming election. William F. Winter, Candidate for State Tax Collector.

DEPUTY TAX ASSESSOR HEITZMANN ANNOUNCES FOR TAX ASSESSOR

GEORGE E. HEITZMANN

TO THE PEOPLE OF HANCOCK COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI

This will formally introduce myself to you as a Candidate for the office of Tax Assessor of Hancock County. To the majority of you, however, I believe I need no formal introduction as you have known me for many years but to those of you whom I have not had the pleasure of meeting personally I ask that you accept this as my personal introduction to you.

In offering myself as a Candidate for Tax Assessor I am fully aware of the fact that the office requires certain qualifications and that the Candidate should possess some knowledge of its operation. In this respect I wish to place before you for your earnest and sincere consideration the EXPERIENCE, TRAINING and the QUALIFICATIONS which I have to offer in seeking this important office.

For the past TWELVE YEARS I have served you as your DEPUTY TAX ASSESSOR. During these 12 years I have gained the necessary experience and have been trained for the job which I now seek. The Knowledge and Training which I have received over these years gives me the qualifications necessary to aspire to this office.

My experience has given me a vast knowledge of the land records of this County and this will be of great value as your Tax Assessor. I have been thoroughly trained in the compiling of assessments and the making of Land Rolls; I am fully qualified to evaluate real estate which is vitally necessary to properly assess your homes and your properties. I am familiar with all of the Laws pertaining to assessments, land rolls and homestead exemption.

I have no political promises to make but I do promise you that you will be given courteous and efficient service; that all assessments of the County will continue to be made on a fair and impartial basis and equal according to law. This I promise with all sincerity.

As to my personal background I am a native of Bay St. Louis, Miss., the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Albert Heitzmann. I was educated in Bay St. Louis and graduated from St. Stanislaus College. I am married to the former Margaret Dubuisson and we have three children.

It is my earnest desire to visit with each of you during this campaign however, as many of you know, the duties I must perform as your Deputy Tax Assessor at this particular time of the year will demand a great deal of time and therefore I limit my activities in this campaign. I will make every effort to talk with each of you, however, in the event it becomes a physical impossibility because of the time element involved, I sincerely ask that you accept this as my personal solicitation for your vote, influence and support during this campaign.

I respectfully request that you consider my qualifications, my experience and the training I have had for the office which I seek.

Respectfully submitted,
George E. Heitzmann

Soak The Saver

There has been a lot of loose talk in recent years on ways to "soak the rich" and "share the wealth." From the beginning of time men have invented many schemes to impoverish the rich but have never found a fool-proof plan to enrich the poor.

The worst swindle of our time is the relentless effort to undermine the purchasing value of the American dollar through inflation, governmental waste and tinkering with our economy.

A sound dollar is essential to our present prosperity and future security. The little man, of whom we sing praise and upon whom reformers expend their sentiment and tears, is the one who suffers when the purchasing power of his dollar is deteriorated.

The "little man's" life insurance, his social security, his government bonds, the money he has saved for that rainy day are all destroyed when he invests sound dollars into his future and one day, when he needs it most, gets back phoney money.

Scores of nations all over the world are suffering many hardships on account of the inflation of their currencies. When workers and investors do not know from one day to the next what their money will be worth there can be no financial stability, no permanent prosperity, no way in which the little man can plan his future and provide for his dependents.

No nation under a free economy has ever been able to survive and prosper by soaking its savers. Destroy the saver's confidence in the wisdom of his government to protect the currency, crush his faith in its ability to redeem its obligations promptly, deny him the assurance that his money is sound, and you are seeing the beginning of the end of a free nation's greatness as a world power.

The core of America's economy and the key to the happiness and prosperity of its people depend upon the integrity of the American dollar. Savers are essential to the expansion of business and the growth of the nation. We cannot soak the savers and survive.

Supervisors...

These approaches can be found in all beats," he said.

"If all these repairs are using seawall funds, you'll never be able to repay the bonds," Johnson then alleged.

"We have never defaulted on bonds," Hubbard declared, adding that in an earlier administration, while Johnson was sheriff, bonds had been marked non-recallable.

"Today more money is coming into the county than ever before," Johnson then remarked.

"Yes, and it is being equally divided between five beats," Hubbard retorted.

When Johnson brought up taxes realized from subdivisions, Hubbard noted that most new subdivisions were not yet on the taxrolls. However, he said, District 5 is getting 20 per cent of all tax revenue, as is each other district.

Asked why a reserve was kept in the seawall fund, Hubbard said, "We want to be prepared in case of a storm. Eight years ago there was no money in the seawall fund."

Johnson next charged that a middle and not low bid had been accepted for a recently purchased sheep foot roller. Hubbard replied that the county engineer had determined that the middle bid was best suited to county needs.

The supervisors noted that because of findings required for his health, county prisoner Willie Necaise, sentenced in March to one year in the county jail on a charge of manslaughter, should be released to the custody of his family.

Rep. Walter James Phillips, counsel for Necaise, showed prescriptions from three doctors, to the effect that Necaise required three supplementary feedings a day. Sheriff Lader testified that it was practically impossible to provide this on the budget provided for prisoner feedings.

A prisoner cannot be released by the county except on parole after three-fourths of his sentence has been served. However, Phillips said, the state parole board might act on the suggestion of the supervisors.

Becker Tells Complaint Method on Obscene Mail

"We can clean up the mails in Bay St. Louis if enough citizens become aware of the seriousness of the problem and use their influence to do so," Postmaster Andrew J. Becker declared this week.

$9,241 if done while workmen were here on the academy job. Hubbard said that there was no possibility of doing the job now, even though it was needed, since it would be included in a proposed remodeling and expansion of the courthouse, for which funds could not yet be released.

The bid of Southern Equipment Sales, Inc. of Jackson, for a spreader box, for $1,355, was accepted over two other bids by Aldridge Harbour Equipment Co., Inc., Jackson, for $1,362.38, and Jackson Equipment, Inc., for $1,900.50.

A $150 advertisement in the circular of Mississippi Children's Home Society was purchased.

Clerk of Courts A. C. Mitchell released to each supervisor a list of citizens who should not be called to jury duty in the next term of court since they had served in the past year.

Ora J. Matthews of Bay St. Louis was told that the county could not reimburse him for a tire ruined Saturday night when he was coming out of a Bayou Caddy fishing camp and drove over a drop, evidently caused by dirt washed from the concrete.

The road, which recently was leveled, apparently was affected by this weekend's severe rains. Paupers oaths were agreed to by three persons asking county aid. Mrs. Ford Smith asked aid for her invalid husband, Moran for his wife, Almadine, and Ollie Necaise for himself.

All the average citizen needs do if his home is invaded by un-ordered and unwanted mail soliciting the sale of filthy, lewd and lascivious films, slides, pictures or other obscene and pornographic material is to complain to the Post Office Department, he explained.

This is done by mailing the objectionable material itself and the envelope it came in, with a signed note of protest to the local postmaster. Becker said he already has received several such protests this year which enables him to move on the offenders.

An investigation is then made by the department's inspection service. If their findings justify action to ban the material from the mails, the department's general counsel then issues such an order. If the sender of obscene literature protests the department's ruling, the matter then may be taken to the nearest federal district court for decision.

Local prosecuting authorities with the cooperation of the Post Office Department usually take criminal action where the material in question is clearly pornographic, Becker explained. Convictions in such cases provide for both jail and dollar fines for the dealers in obscenity.

Recent testimony by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield before a subcommittee of the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee indicates that no longer do dealers in smut and dirty pictures serve only a few adults. Instead they are increasingly soliciting youngsters, sending their unwanted and unsorted material indiscriminately and without conscience into the homes of the nation.

NOLAN A. KINGSTON FOR CONSTABLE

NOLAN A. KINGSTON

TO THE CITIZENS AND QUALIFIED VOTERS OF BEAT FIVE, HANCOCK COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI:

I wish to take this means of announcing my candidacy for the Office of Constable of Beat Five, Hancock County, Mississippi subject to the Voters Wish on the 4th day of August, 1959.

I was born and reared in Beat Five, Hancock County. I am 33 years old. I am married to Nola Hoda and we are blessed with four children. I live in Bay Saint Louis and own my own home and believe in making Beat Five a better place for us all to live and raise our children.

I am an overseas veteran of World War II, and the Past Post Commander of Hancock County Veterans of Foreign Wars and a member of the Clement R. Bontemps, American Legion Post No. 139. I am a member of the Tennessee and Mississippi Sheriff's and Peace Officers Association. I am also a member of the Louisiana Peace Officers Association. I am also a member of the Louisiana Peace Officers Association. I am a Catholic and attend Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church. I am a member of the Holy Name Society. I am a member of the Knights of Columbus.

I was educated in the Public Schools of Hancock County and Saint Stanislaus College. In the Election of 1951, I was elected Constable of Beat Five and served as your Constable from 1952 to 1956. My record as your Constable is an open book and speaks for itself, there is no substitute for experience. And in the election of 1955 in the Second Primary, I failed to gain the Office by a very very small margin.

Since my term expired, I have been employed as a Law Enforcement Officer with the Mississippi Game and Fish Commission of the State of Mississippi and doing other works. I resigned in early April, 1959 my job with the Mississippi Game and Fish Commission in order to make this race for the office of Constable of Beat Five, Hancock County, Mississippi, after being requested by many people to offer again for the Office of Constable. And if elected I will again serve the people 24 hours a day as your Constable subject to call at anytime of the day or night.

My Friends, I am making this race for the Office of Constable on my own merits and I am not tied up with any other Candidate for any Office and I sincerely solicit the vote and political influence of all of the People of Beat Five, Hancock County. I want to be your Constable and when you go to the Polls on August 4th, 1959, vote for Nolan A. Kingston, as your next Constable.

Respectfully Submitted:
NOLAN A. KINGSTON,

WELTON J. LADNER SEEKS SHERIFF'S POST

WELTON J. LADNER

TO THE PEOPLE OF HANCOCK COUNTY
First I want to thank each and every one of you for the splendid support you gave me in the Primary on August 2nd, 1955 and I shall always feel indebted and grateful to you.

I wish to use this means of presenting to you my Candidacy for the office of Sheriff and Tax Collector of Hancock County for consideration at the Democratic Primary on August 4, 1959, and in so doing to better acquaint myself, my qualifications and my platform.

I, like my mother and father, was born in Hancock County; was educated in its public schools and at Perkinson Junior College. I have resided in Hancock County all of my life.

I served as Constable of Beat Four and as Deputy Sheriff approximately seven years. I am 44 years of age, married and the father of six children and one adopted child, making a total of seven ranging in age from 22 years to eighteen months.

I am a Veteran of World War II having spent most of my time overseas.

I believe the Sheriff's office to be the most important office in which everyone has business during the year and in which all tax monies are collected. I am not unaware of the many duties and responsibilities which confront your Sheriff and Tax Collector. I shall try at all times to inaugurate policies and methods to expedite the many functions and duties of the office.

I propose to carry out the following functions as your Sheriff:

1. To make up each tax receipt in four copies as soon as possible after we receive the tax roll and mail one copy of the tax receipt to the tax payer to be returned or the number thereon at the time of paying taxes so standing in line for a long period of time will not be necessary.

2. To keep your Sheriff's office open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., including the lunch hour each week except Saturday for the convenience of people working in town who can take care of their business in the Sheriff's office during their lunch hour; and during November, December and January all day Saturday for the convenience of those people living or working out of town who have business to take care of in your Sheriff's office.

3. I shall endeavor to employ a trained man to visit each school in the County at least once a month to teach safety and reduce juvenile delinquency.

4. To set up sub-stations throughout the County for the purpose of selling automobile license plates during the month of October.

5. I propose to see that every place of entertainment in the County is policed by an efficient law enforcement officer.

6. To appoint deputies in various parts of the County so that an officer will be available to everyone at all times.

7. I shall endeavor to perform the duties invested in me by the Laws of the State with justice to all and malice to none.

8. I shall at all times serve you as Sheriff and Tax Collector in such a manner that you will never have cause to regret having voted for me.

I shall strive to keep my campaign on a high level the same as I did in the past.

I am seeking the support and influence of the free thinking, independent voter.

I am not unmindful of the great task before me in contacting each and everyone of you personally which I shall strive to do. In the event I should fail to see you please accept this as means of soliciting your vote and influence.

Respectfully submitted,

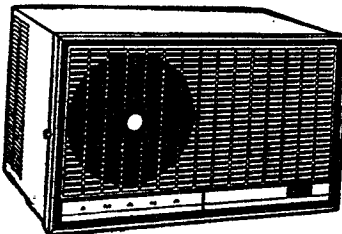

Welton J. Ladner

Work Starts On State Aid Road

Construction started Wednesday on the first district contracted state aid road in Hancock County reports District 5 Supervisor R. G. Hubbard Jr. The 6.5 mile road between U.S. 90 and the junction of Districts 5 and 1, which is a revision of the Lower Bay Road, has a total estimated cost of $154,000, Hubbard said. Approval of plans, specifications and estimates for the project was received Wednesday from Frank T. Moore at Jackson, state aid engineer. In the past, roads built under the seven-year-old state aid road program in Hancock County have been constructed by contractors other than the individual district involved. This time work is being done with county equipment and profits will revert back to the District 5 road fund.

rate from the gas and water system to the general funds would have to be reversed next year when the monthly payments for retirement of bonds jump from $2,000 a month to $4,000 a month. Friday the board expects to informally inspect the area near the home of Fred Lister on Jeff Davis Avenue, who has complained that surface water is pouring through his property and washing away the soil. Council postponed consideration of the purchase of two water fountains after learning their approximate cost, but voted to advertise for a trench digging machine. It also voted to advertise for sale, by placing notices in three public places, a 1944 two-ton Ford truck, not now in use. Dufour told council that Highway Commissioner John Smith had not replied to his letter of May 15 asking that someone be sent to show where in the vicinity of Waveland Avenue and U. S. 90 it would be satisfactory for the highway department for the town to erect a sign welcoming people to Waveland. Building permits totaling $19,345 were approved as follows: Herbert J. Letz, house in Salle's subdivision, 4th Ward, $3,000; Mrs. Adam Lewis Rau, house, Lot 123B, 3rd Ward $2,945; Ferris Steele, house Combel's subdivision, 2nd Ward, $1,200; Mrs. T. J. Cormier, improvements, Holliday Hills subdivision, $500.

To Reactivate

A second protest meeting of beach property owners was cancelled Friday night because of lack of a quorum of nine needed for reorganization of Bay St. Louis Property Owners Assn., first chartered in 1953, reported Roger Boh, chairman. The association will be re-organized, Boh, said, in order more effectively to fight construction of a motel by A. E. Alexander on the corner of U. S. 90 and Beach Blvd. Decision to seek legal advice regarding zoning laws which might block the proposed project was made at a meeting May 25. Present Friday night were Mr. and Mrs. James Ansley, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Lamb, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Baum, M. A. Cowan and Roger Boh, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Goldman, who would have fulfilled the quorum requirement, had to leave before the meeting got underway about 45 minutes late. As chairman, Boh could not act as a member of the quorum.

Dogs Get Shots

Rabies shots were given to 28 dogs last Saturday when Dr. L. C. Schantz, Mississippi City veterinarian, made his last scheduled stop this year at Waveland town hall.

A total of 153 dogs were inoculated by Dr. Schantz on his three trips to Waveland.

County Board...

school building, also soon to be vacated, came under consideration when Chester C. Lee, representing the Baptist Lee's Chapel No. 2, asked for use of the lunchroom there and perhaps the other building. Since the land is to revert to the original owner when it is no longer used for a school, the buildings probably must be moved. Rep. Walter J. Phillips, counsel for the board, explained in detail to the two petitioning groups about the responsibilities should they be placed in charge of a vacated building. When the board got to the insurance matter later, it developed that lessees must carry insurance on school buildings and trustees observed that is likely to change the picture somewhat for a number of the petitioners. Four schools are to be formally vacated soon, the new North Central building replacing them, Assignment of Kiln School to the Church of Amun-ciation for summer use was formalized.

The board took no action on a request from a relative of the late Aunt Nettie Cox, widely known resident of the Logtown community, that that school be renamed for her. Trustee Charles Murphy observed that parent-teacher association or a similar group should have a voice on that.

Addition of two classrooms to Gulfview School was discussed and the board authorized conversion of the homemaking department at Kiln School to a teacher's residence, before recessing until 9 a.m. Saturday to take up bills.

L&N Ups Commuter Rates

A hike in railway commuter fares effective July 6 was announced by Louisville and Nashville Railroad Co., when it filed notice Wednesday with the Interstate Commerce Commission of its intent to sharply increase fares between New Orleans and Gulf Coast areas to the east. The announcement followed ICC rejection of a company petition for special permission to make increases effective within 10 days. Under the longer, 30-day notice requirement the fare changes would be subject to protest and possible suspension action by the commission.

Proposed fare rises will range from around 40 per cent on 10-trip tickets to more than 100 per cent on 40-trip and 54-trip books.

Commuter trains 9 and 12 were discontinued between Pass Christian and Ocean Springs after a hearing before the ICC in January, during which the railroad asked for discontinuation of the entire run on the grounds that the operation was losing the company money.

The commission ordered the company to continue the New Orleans to Pass Christian route because of public need.
